

SpecNav Retirement Communities Benefits

Our innovative SpecNav health risk reduction and care navigation services keep your independent senior residents independent and lessen the occurrence of declines in the health of residents who require medical assistance. Ensuring that your senior residents are engaged amid a chaotic scheduling, clinical and financial environment is indeed a challenge.

While clinician interaction is a major part of the experience, it is primarily the non-clinical touch points that harm the experience. Our SpecNav care navigators, who will provide our online and in-person health risk reduction and care navigation services, will be advanced practice healthcare professionals such as nurse practitioners, nurse navigators, nurse informatics or physician assistants and, in certain cases, they will be medical doctors/physicians.

Our innovative, SpecNav care navigation services are delivered through a combination of virtual/remote and direct (“boots-on-the-ground”) strategies designed to address issues surrounding the aging population’s need for improvements in healthcare safety, cost-effectiveness, quality, transparency and equity, across the entire healthcare continuum.

We help to keep your healthy seniors healthy which will, in turn, have a positive impact upon assisted living and nursing home operations.

At a Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC), a resident can start out living independently in an apartment and later transition to assisted living to get more help with daily activities or to skilled nursing to receive more medical care, while remaining in the same community. This offers residents a sense of stability and familiarity, as a resident ages and their abilities or health conditions continue to change.

The benefits to your CCRC through a strategic relationship with Preservant includes, but is not limited to:

1. Promotion of your home health services.
2. Increase your retention rates and strengthen its market competitiveness.

3. The coronavirus advice and safeguards, provided during our telehealth consultation, will lessen the likelihood of coronavirus infection and transmission within your facility.
4. Lowering of the attrition rates and financial loss, caused by interruptions and vacancies at the facilities.
5. Replacement or augmentation of your resident non-emergency medical transportation with our version of those services.
6. Enhanced performance on Medicare's Skilled Nursing Facility (SNF) Provider quality reporting.
7. Enhancements to the overall public image of your facility.

Our innovative care navigation services lighten the load on nursing home and assisted living directors and staff members by easing the minds of the family members and the seniors.

An alliance with Preservant also introduces the possibility for your retirement community becoming part of an innovative initiative designed to crack the, heretofore, illusive code of reducing the cost of healthcare, while improving the quality of care outcome, across the U.S. healthcare system.
